CONFERENCE TOPICS:

Why Exhibit?
Air Cargo Americas is the largest international air cargo exhibition and congress in the Western Hemisphere. It provides companies with exceptional opportunities to promote their products and services to senior air cargo executives and shippers from the Americas marketplace.

Miami serves as the “Trade and Logistics Airport of the Americas”. Miami International Airport ranks #1 in international freight in the U.S., and is impressively ranked as the ninth largest air cargo airport in the world. The airport is home to over 100 international and domestic airlines. It serves over 1,300 customs brokers and freight forwarders who operate in the South Florida region. Also, it is the leading center for integrated carriers such as DHL, FedEx and UPS. Miami’s international trade community provides the event with a dynamic and large visitor base of international executives and aviation officials who attend the show.

SeaCargo Americas will bring together more than 400 top executives from all sectors of the maritime community to exchange views and experiences to enhance the growth of the maritime industry in the Western Hemisphere.

The PortMiami is recognized as the "Cargo Gateway of the Americas". Miami’s unique geographic position makes the Port easily accessible to the Caribbean and Latin American markets as well as Asia via the Panama Canal. It is the largest container cargo port in the State of Florida handling over 900,000 TEUs annually. More than sixteen of the world’s top shipping lines call at the Port from which they service 250 ports worldwide. Latin America and the Caribbean account for more than 50% of the cargo passing thru the PortMiami.
